

Biomechanics in Orthopaedic Surgery Iceland 2015

Friday 22ND – Saturday 23rd May 2015, Reykjavik

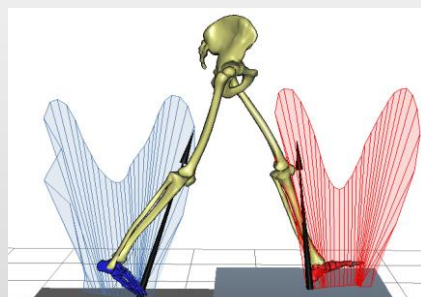

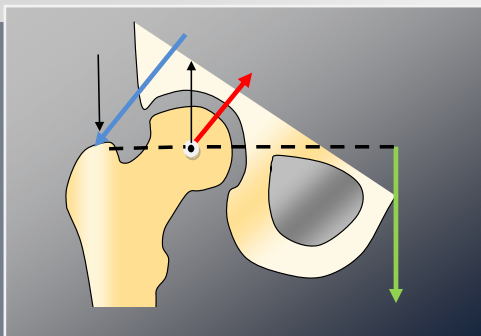

We are delighted to announce the Biomechanics in Orthopaedic Surgery instructional course taking place at the University of Reykjavik School of Science and Engineering.

Delegates can expect:

- A UK led teaching programme
- Curriculum specific instruction in the basic principles of biomechanics in orthopaedic surgery
- Exceptional international faculty
- Included, an organised afternoon tour of the local region and natural geothermal phenomenon
- Included, refreshments and lunch

Registration: £150

To book your place, please email: symposium@trauma.co.uk

Kindly sponsored by:

